

Frances Ridley Havergal: The Girl Who Loved Mountains

Frances Ridley Havergal dreamed of the day when she would finally climb a mountain. Until that day arrived she simply enjoyed the beauty of fields, and hedgerows and moonlit skies. As Frances grew up she used her musical gifts and talents to share the good news of Jesus Christ - she wrote many Christian hymns including Take my Life and let it Be. Eventually she did get to climb those mountains in Switzerland and share the gospel there too. For that was Frances Ridley Havergal's life - it was all about Jesus!
