

Love Choices: (Short Stories of Dialogue)

Love choices a book of short stories take you on a love quest. There are three different stories of love in this book that makes you ask the question do we go too far for love? The story A Mothers Love lets you look in to the eyes of a mother with bitterness. Her bitterness made her heart dark and the darkness is towards a person you would think could never make her want to give up on love. In the short story A Waiting Love you are reading the life of two best friends who have stood by each other through a tragic time. One has been waiting for a chance to show their friend that they are in love with someone but too scared to open up. So they both venture out to others to fill their hearts with love and lust. Last story Sibling Love a brother and sister who has never let each other go and grow up on their own. Times of jealousy and heartache will hit these siblings and they must decide who comes first the love of their lives or each other. Each story in this book will leave you speech less. Love choices is unpredictable with romance, friendships, and family all put to a test.
