

Drawing of the figures, for the first time usually is difficult for children. In this edition, figures are given partially in the form of a game from animated movies figures which should be described in the scheme according to given numbers. While drawing, the player will be more preoccupied in finding parts of drawing which are not given in order but mixed. Until the game its not completed, the player easily puts parts of the drawing in their places and at the very end - WOW - he get surprised from extracted figure. This is a great fun for children!
