

Charisma

Roué Charles Tower, a C47 pilot during World War II crashed his plane, was wounded and discharged, then became a con man, a reverend like the Reverend Jones in Guyana, and became a mass murderer having created the Church of Manna in Heaven patterned after the cargo cult which he learned about in New Guinea. With his intuitive hypnotic attraction, he drew in members. Although he smoothly masked his insecurities, he had the empty feeling much of the time that life had passed him by, one definition of a misfit. With the church, or was it a sect?, he created, he was able to achieve enough in life to smother the feelings. Then he crashed again.
